digital and analog games have long served modern public libraries as educational tools and as drawcards for new patrons from dedicated gaming zones and children's spaces to minecraft gaming days makerspaces and virtual reality collections much has been written about the role of games and play in libraries programming and collections but their wider role in transforming libraries as public institutions remains unexplored in this book the authors draw on ethnographic research to provide a rich portrait of the intersection between games play and public libraries they look at how games and play are increasingly spilling out of designated zones within libraries and beyond their walls as part of a broader reconfiguration and reimagining of libraries in the digital era the library's association with play has historically been understood through its classification as a third place somewhere to relax socialise and experiment outside of the utilitarian demands of work and home but far from just offering patrons an opportunity for detached leisure this book illustrates how libraries are connecting games and play to policies agendas around their municipality's economic and cultural development attending to the institutionalisation of play the book sheds new light both on the contradictions at the heart of play as a theoretical concept and what libraries are in contemporary public life requirements for professional media editing have undergone enormous technological change editors still edit copy but today they do much more mass media editors must demonstrate skills from computerized pagination to social media monitoring from image manipulation to search engine optimization the need for editing skills is reaching far beyond traditional journalism and into all areas of mass media from newspapers to strategic communication public relations practitioners are expected to edit even advertising creative professionals must edit and journalists taking on new roles as social media editors need to understand editing at the speed of digital media this textbook aims to prepare university level students for these expanded editing roles in an age of convergence thirteen authors representing many years of collective media experience examine both traditional editing roles and new editing needs while many mass media students will not become professional editors this textbook assumes nearly all will need competent editing knowledge to produce products of professional quality editing the authors believe remains a bedrock skill for all students who hope to be successful in the mass media instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here
